HE WANTS THEM.

President Asks His Cabinet
To Stay.

Addresses Them At The White House On Tuesday.

One Of The Most Remarkable Cabinet
Meetings Ever Held.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—President McKinley today announced clearly and forcefully to the members of his cabinet his desire that all of them remain with him during the four years of his second administration. The president made his wish known in an extended speech in the cabinet meeting at the White house. Responses were made by all the members present, and although no pledges were given by any of them that they would retain the portfolios, there was no definite declaration. The president said that if the result of the recent election was an endorsement of his previous administration, it was no less an endorsement of the men who had stood by him through all the stress and necessity of those four years. The credit, he said, belonged to the heads of the different departments, and he should shrink from entering upon a second term unless he was assured that a majority at least of the members of his official household would remain with him. He knew that compliance with his desire meant some sacrifice on the part of each, either of money, leisure or personal inclination. Secretaries Day, Long, Gage, Hitchcock and Wilson, Postmaster General Smith and Attorney General Griggs spoke in reply to the president, all in much the same vein. Each expressed his appreciation of the complimentary references by his chief and declared that not one would sever official relations without regret and unless moved by the most urgent reasons. The meeting will stand as one of the most remarkable which the cabinet has ever held.

BOTH OFFICERS CENSURED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The naval court of inquiry appointed to investigate the collision between the torpedo craft Dahlgren and Craven off Newport, R. I., on October 16th last, has recommended that Lieut. Ford H. Brown, commander of the Craven, be court-martialed and that Lieut. William G. Miller of the Dahlgren be censured. Acting on the advice of the advocate general, Secretary Long has not ordered the court martial, but has censured both officers.

HIS PRIVATE SECRETARY.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Secretary Long announces that he has appointed Cyrus C. Wells of Illinois as his private secretary, at a salary of $2250 per year, temporarily, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his former secretary, L. H. Phibney, Jr. Mr. Wells formerly held a $1400 clerkship in the office of the department and for the past six months has been acting as Mr. Long's secretary.

TWENTY FOUR RECOVERED.

YARMOUTH, Nov. 13.—Up to six o'clock this evening, twenty four bodies of the City of Monticello's victims had been recovered and identified and those belonging out of town forwarded to the places where they had lived. The bodies of twelve others are missing. Thus forty people are accounted for as having been on the last trip of the steamer. Of these only four were saved.

ROYALIST UPRISING IMMINENT.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The Figaro makes the following sensational statement: "A recrudescence of royalism is imminent. The Duke of Orleans has called meetings in all the wards of the city and the movement will be extended to the departments when it has been put on a solid footing in the capital."

STOOD SIX ROUNDS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Kid Broad of Cleveland stood six rounds before Terry McGovern at Tattersall's tonight. McGovern had the fight well in hand throughout, but he never had an opponent who could take as much punishment and keep coming back at him with such vigor as the stocky lad who faced him tonight. Broad made a wonderful fight, mixing it freely and scoring two clean knock-downs. He kept his feet all the time except in the third round, when he was knocked down cleanly, and in the sixth, when he went down of his own accord to rest. He could not have fought another round, however, for he was smothered under the blows which the champion rained upon him. After the fight, James J. Corbett entered the ring and read the following: "I have this day placed in the hands of Lou M. Rouseman, sporting editor of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, one thousand dollars to back either of the two following propositions: I will box James J. Jeffries six rounds before Tattersall's Athletic club and agree to give him 75 per cent, win or lose. If six rounds is not satisfactory to him, I will box him twenty or twenty-five rounds or to a finish, before any club offering the best inducement, winner to take all."

ROSSLYN EATS CROW.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—In reply to an inquiry from the Prince of Wales regarding Earl Rosslyn's charges against the British troops, Lord Roberts answers that the allegations are groundless. Thereupon Earl Rosslyn has written to the Prince of Wales, expressing his regret that he had been misinformed and offering an apology.

THINKS CHINA WILL ACCEDE.

LONDON, Nov. 14, 2 A. M.—Dr. Morrison, writing to the Times from Peking, says he thinks China will readily accede to all the just demands of the powers except the execution of the officials, which is quite impossible while the imperial court remains in the hands of those officials.

KEEPING UP THE RACE WAR.

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 13.—A bill to disfranchise the negroes was introduced today in the lower house of the Georgia legislature by Representative Hardwick from Washington county. A similar bill was defeated at the last session.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Forecast for New England: Wednesday, snow in northern portions, rain turning to snow in southern portions, much colder; Thursday, generally fair and continued cold, fresh to brisk south winds shifting to high northwest.

BENT PISTON ROD.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—It was a bent piston rod that caused the monitor Monterey to put back to Hong Kong soon after setting sail for Canton. The damages are slight, according to reports received by the navy department.

FIRE DAMP EXPLOSION.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—Thirteen men were killed and nineteen others injured seriously today in a fire damp explosion at the Pluto mines, in Wismar, near Rux.

FROM FITZ

Newport News, Nov. 13.—Robert Fitzgibbon held here tonight that he will spurn Jeffries' challenge and will beat $2500 that Ed Dankhorst can defeat Jeffries.

PECULIAR CLOUDS.

At one o'clock this morning, the sky was covered with clouds of a most peculiar formation. They stretched clean across the zenith in white, puffy rows like the ice cream swirl. The layers of sky between them were very black and the contrast was unusually weird. It was remarked upon by the night owls who chanced to be abroad at that hour.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Woman's Branch alliance of the Unitarian church held its annual meeting at the chapel on Court street, Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. Several members of the Unitarian church of Newington were present. Tea was served after the meeting.

HEARD AT RANDOM.

Better Off Than Biddesford.

Said a local coal dealer on Tuesday: "While some of you people are kicking because the price of coal is so high, you ought to stop and think how much more you have to be thankful for than some of the towns down in Maine, Biddesford, for instance. There the dealers are charging seven dollars a ton and are thinking seriously of putting it up still more. They say that unless they can get some more large shipments up river before it freezes and is closed to navigation, they will be obliged to make the jump. What is the prospect here? I can't say. The situation doesn't seem to clear much."

A Pertinent Question

"Will you tell me why the coal dealers here shouldn't come off their perch as right away now and give us cheaper prices?" queried a citizen, on Tuesday evening. "The strike is all settled and has been for some time, yet they keep the figures away up and show no sign of lowering them any. This is getting almighty tiresome for some of us who have to buy a lot of the fuel every cold season, and I'd like to know what it's all for. You say you can't explain the why and wherefore? Well, I guess nobody else can, either. A man from Rochester, with whom I was talking yesterday, told me that coal can be bought cheaper there than it can here. That's another funny thing. Here we are right on the coast, while Rochester is further inland, and yet we are being 'soaked' heavier than they are up there."

Increase In Female Vote.

An enthusiastic supporter of female suffrage said to one of her friends, a day or two ago: "Do you know that more women voted last Tuesday for a president than ever before in the history of this country? It is estimated that 85,000 of them voted in Colorado, 31,000 in Utah, 11,800 in Idaho and 8,300 in Wyoming. It is a remarkable fact, as reported from each of these states, that the women cast their votes against women holding office. A dispatch from Denver says the ballots of the female voters carried the state for Bryan. I don't think, though, that that is anything for us to be proud of."

He Is The Real Thing.

"St. Lewis was up against the real thing," said a Portsmouth sport, "when he boxed Billy Brady in this city, the other night. I don't know whether he knew it or not. Why, this Brady ('Kid,' they call him,) was for a time the champion of New York city, at 110 pounds, and I think he is still. He's all right from head to heels and Lewis has no license with him, in my opinion. When they come together next time, you see if I'm not right."

Argument For Open Cars.

A Portsmouth physician advanced this argument recently: "I believe it would be much better for the health of people generally, if more open cars were used through the winter. In Philadelphia fifty open cars on different lines will be retained all winter, for smokers. This custom grew out of a general demand from the patrons. It would be a distinct benefit to people who are shut up in close offices all day if, properly dressed, of course—they could only avail themselves more of open cars. Our own climate would not permit this all winter, literally speaking, but on the many beautiful clear, days and nights that do favor us between November and April, why wouldn't it be better for us to get more fresh air instead of shutting ourselves up in closed and heated cars, especially in the hours of overcrowding—morning and evening?"

Abolish Side-Wheelers.

"If I could have my way," remarked a veteran sea captain of this city, "I'd do away with all side-wheel steamers on the coast lines of New England. The loss of the Portland happened because the boat was never intended for the dangers of rough weather. And now that disaster has been duplicated in the foundering of the City of Monticello. Side-wheel craft are all right on some runs, perhaps, but you'll never get me to ride from Boston to Yarmouth on one of them. I'd walk first. I tell you it's sheer foolhardiness to send a steamer of that class along this coast to the provinces, and it ought to be stopped."

A Worthy Speaker.

"I hope all who are interested in drawing and can attend the lecture at the High school next Friday afternoon will do," said Superintendent Morrison of the public schools. "The speaker, Miss Rice of Providence, is well grounded in her subject and has the faculty of impressing it forcibly and convincingly upon the minds of her hearers. Those who attend will, I am sure, find it profitable."

This Thief Was a Joker.

A west end woman who is prominent in society is telling her intimate friends this little story: "I attended the parish reception in the North church chapel on Monday evening and left my coat hanging in the wrap room, as did others, as well. In one pocket was my purse. When I got ready to go home and put on the coat the purse had been emptied of everything except a five-cent piece—just the price of a ride home on the car! The fellow who sneaked in and did that little trick is a joker, certainly. I am very grateful to him for his thoughtfulness in leaving me the nickel, as I was wearing a pair of new shoes that hurt my feet and I didn't want to walk home."

Plenty Of Snow There.

"So you haven't been treated to a snow storm yet?" began the traveling agent of a Boston firm, on Tuesday evening. "Well, I came in this afternoon from the northern part of your state, where the snow didn't do a single thing to 'em last week. If half the output that they got up in that region had fallen in Portsmouth, it would have meant good sleighing for you. From Plymouth clear up to Berlin the snow was five feet deep in many places. I went over the road right after the storm. It seemed queer to me to come down here and find no sign of winter at all."

The Lippt Known Here.

"The schooner Henry J. Lippt, which was last seen driving before the storm off Vineyard Haven, a few days ago and is thought to be lost, with all on board, has been in this port a number of times," said a man at the East-end wharf, on Tuesday. "She is a three master and belongs to the coal carrying fleet. She has brought in coal for the Walkers, from Baltimore, and is well-known to all the fellows down around the wharves here. I sort of think the vessel may have weathered the blow, after all, for she is a staunch craft and her skipper knows his business."

Much Colic Among Horses.

"The uncommonly large number of cases of colic which have occurred among horses during the past fortnight is causing considerable talk among the horsemen," said a stable keeper, on Tuesday. "One veterinary tells me that he has been called upon to treat ten cases within a week, and that he never before saw the ailment so prevalent at this season of the year. He believes it to be the result of the many changes in the weather."

SMOKE TALK AND ENTERTAINMENT.

The members of the Piscataqua club gave a very enjoyable smoke talk and entertainment to their many friends on Tuesday evening. About 250 people were in attendance, and the rooms of the club were filled to their capacity. The entertainment rendered during the evening was excellent and consisted of the following numbers:

- | | |
|---------------------------|-----------------------|
| 1. Piano Selection, | Horace Rowe |
| 2. Song, | Patrick Sullivan |
| 3. Song, | Freeman Cassell |
| 4. Piano Selection, | Horace Rowe |
| 5. Song, | Master George Francis |
| 6. Comic Sketch, | Joseph Banks |
| 7. Buck and Wing Dancing, | Master George Francis |
| 8. Whistling Solo, | Mr. Remick |
| 9. Piano Selection, | Born to Rowe |

At the conclusion of the entertainment the cigars were passed around and the members and their friends engaged in an old-fashioned smoker. The members of the club propose to hold one of these social entertainments every month and they are sure to have a large attendance, as they are good entertainers.

TBIS YARD GETS QUITE AN APPROPRIATION.

The estimates of appropriations for the naval establishment for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1902, include the following for public works at navy yards and shore stations: Portsmouth, N. H., $677,850; Boston, $903,000; New York, $1,470,000; League Island, $1,118,730; Washington, $631,340; Norfolk, $1,507,260; San Juan, Porto Rico, $693,000; Mare Island, $761,660; Puget Sound, $528,000; Tatula, $225,000; Hawaii, $107,300.

NEW WARNING SYSTEM.

Lights to be Placed on Towers in the Principal Harbors.

Tests are now in progress in Washington of storm warning lights to be placed on the new signal towers recently authorized by Congress to be established in the principal harbors of the country, including Portsmouth harbor.

A large number of lights have been submitted for adoption and are now under consideration. It is planned to test the power of the respective lights from the tower of the postoffice building in Washington if authority is given by the postal officials. The object aimed at is to increase the carrying capacity of the lights.

While the present maximum is about five or six miles, it is hoped to reach a distance of twelve miles at sea with the new oil lamps and fifteen to eighteen miles with the electric lights in ordinary weather.

Makers of lamps in this country and in Europe have entered into the competition, which is now closed, for equipping the three hundred stations contemplated.

American makers have protested against the award of the contract to foreign manufacturers, and Chief Moore of the weather bureau has decided that preference will be given to American bidders unless the European lamps greatly exceeds in power the American lamp.

A SUPERSTITIOUS TRAMP

There was an even dozen of lodgers at the police station on Tuesday night. This is the largest number housed over night for some time. One of the tramps was exceedingly superstitious. He counted noses and when he found there was one short of thirteen, he heaved a long sigh of relief. "If another comes in," he said to Capt. Marden, "one of us'll die before daylight, sure."

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

The thing to do is to help the system discharge the humors, and to strengthen it against their return.

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, Franks, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Alvina Walter, Box 212, Algona, W. Ia., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are more testimonials in favor of this great medicine than can be published.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1906.
Business, and lots of it, is the paramount issue now.

Alleged say—more did I, but our own opinion is that Alleged had a hand in it.
First Wellington repudiated his party, and then Maryland repudiated Wellington.
Bryan now says that prosperity did it. We kept telling him all along that it would do it.
As we understand the case, the American people now want a little less politics in their.

From Admiral Dewey's latest remarks, we infer that he is sincerely thankful that he wasn't in it.
In view of the returns, Admiral Dewey is probably thankful that his boom was regarded as a deep-sea joke.
The report from Cologne with regard to the German programme in China is evidently a sweet-scented romance.

This talk about reorganizing the democratic party is a little grotesque. You can't reorganize a vacuum, can you?
One thing upon which all sensible Americans may congratulate themselves is that Bryanism has been taken out of politics.

If the democratic managers ever find the man who tricked them in bombing the fool issue of "imperialism" they should go to the rescue of him for malicious mischief.

Ex-President Cleveland isn't very obliging to the newspapers, and just now is not saying much, but as he is again to be Stafford lecturer on public affairs at Princeton University, it must be assumed that his thinking apparatus is still in running order.

The republican party is in receipt of a plethora of advice, in these days of its return to power, with a substantial majority in both branches of congress and with an overwhelming support of its national administration, both in the electoral college and by popular vote. The advice is welcome. Perhaps it is welcome. But the tale of the four years that will end March 4, 1909, is such as to encourage confidence that the second administration of President McKinley will equal the first in both brilliance and conservatism.

It was a phenomenon of the recent presidential campaign that one question, which six months ago promised to hold a conspicuous place among current issues, dropped almost completely out of sight. This was the authority of congress to levy customs duties upon articles of commerce between the United States and Porto Rico. It was perceived by the people generally that this was a question of constitutional law, and that the only place for its decision was the supreme court of the United States. The issue is now joined in that court, through an appeal of importers against duties, paid under protest, upon goods brought from Porto Rico and there is a prospect of its final adjudication next January. The decision of the court will be of importance, not only to Porto Rico, but as it may bear upon future regulation of commerce with insular possessions in the Pacific.

STATE AID FOR SCHOOLS.
Annual Apportionment of $25,000 in New Hampshire.
During the legislative session of 1899 in the state, a law passed provided for the distribution of $25,000 annually among towns able to support properly their own public schools.
The superintendent of public instruction was selected as the judge of what towns should be entitled to shares, and Superintendent Folsom has filed his list of 73 towns with the state treasurer, who will make the apportionments and forward them in December.
The towns which will receive benefit from this apportionment of funds are: Ellsworth, Dover, Chatham, Eaton, Dover, Jefferson, Orange, Madison, Thornton, Stewartstown, Groton, Gorham, Milne, Columbia, Albany, Bartlett, Danville, Stratford, Sullivan, Appleton, Edgemoor, Springfield, Northumberland, Stark, Oatton, Clarksville, Conway, Whitefield, Carroll, Colebrook, Middlebury, Brookfield, Grafton, Tamworth, Oatton, Woodstock, Kingston, New Durham, Troy, Leppister, Dunsmuir, Pittsburg, Ossipee, Unity, Mountbarnes, Fitzburg, Crofton, Bennington, Newton, Piermont, Salem, Jackson, Bethlehem, Sandown, Fitzwilliam, Alexandria, Holderness, Cornish, Bridgewater, Lyman, Windor, Campton, Hebron, Sharon, Errol, Randolph, Benton, Shelburne, Northfield (town district), Tuftonboro, Raymond, Hampstead and Fremont.

JOHN WANAMAKER'S NEW MAGAZINE.

The latest development in magazine is the entrance of the firm of John Wanamaker into the publisher's field. They will take over and publish, beginning with the December issue, Everybody's Magazine. "We have set ourselves the task of building up in character and circulation an illustrated magazine of our own and of the best type," says the announcement. So radical a departure seems to call for some explanation; the statements made that the Wanamaker stores have become the largest sellers of books at retail in the country and that they deal with more readers directly than any other firm (the aggregate sales equalling or surpassing the sales of even the larger publishing houses) clearly indicate that a popular magazine belongs naturally to this organization. A highly attractive Christmas number is promised with contributions from James Whitcomb Riley, Miss Mary E. Watkins, Charles Major, author of "When Knighthood was in Flower," Edwin Asa Dix of "Deacon Bradbury" fame and a novel serial by a new southern woman writer of whom much is expected.

MAINE NOTES.

Diphtheria is prevalent in South Berwick.
Arthur Cole of Biddeford and Dan Murry of Lynn fight at Biddeford, the 23rd.
The York Light and Heat company a Biddeford is to have a new power house.

It is stated on good authority that United States Senator Clark of Montana has purchased a granite quarry in Maine.

The investigation of the Fannie Sprague murder at South Berwick Junction is hanging fire, and the officials expect to be able to present to the grand jury at the January term in Saco, sufficient evidence to secure an indictment. That case is likely to be fought as hard as any ever tried in Maine. If the person against whom circumstantial evidence is said to point is put on trial, the new attorney general and County Attorney Matthews will have to make the fight of their lives, for the suspected person is a man of means, and can be depended on to spend his last dollar, if necessary in self defence.

A LITTLE DISFIGURED.

Leonard Schurman, manager of the P. K. & Y. waiting room at Badger's Island, jumped from a moving car on Government street, Tuesday evening. One foot struck on a surface of soft ashes before the other foot had time to land and Mr. Schurman left little pieces of skin from his face and hands sticking onto the ashes. He was not otherwise hurt, but is a little disfigured for a few days.

LITERARY NOTE.

One thousand dollars in two prize offered by the American Sunday-School Union, Philadelphia, Pa., for the best book upon the topic: How is Man to be Saved? or, God's Way of Salvation. Theological treatises are not desired, but practical and popular works of narrative or descriptive character. Free circulars are mailed by the Society to writers who contemplate contesting. All manuscripts should be typewritten, and contain about 10,000 to 20,000 words. A first prize of $500, and a second of $200 are offered, and the contest will remain open until November 1, 1911.

IN THE THEATRICAL WORLD.
TONIGHT'S BIG OPERA.
Prince Pro Tem and All Its Splendid Features at Music Hall.
An attraction of unusual interest and which has such a long and successful run in Boston, Prince Pro Tem, will be offered to the patrons of Music Hall this evening.
The opera with its abundance of good music, hilarious fun and wealth of scenery and costumes and its splendid array of talent, has "caught on" with every class of theatre goer. The production is under the personal direction of Mr. Dan Packard, who is a veteran producer of opera. Of the comedians no two follow the same line of comedy. There is a fascinating feminine contingent, the stage settings are very beautiful and the light effects please the eye. To the numerous humorous and catchy songs, there are stirring choruses and ensemble numbers making it a performance well worth watching.
The opera has had two long runs in Boston, one at the Music and the other at the Tremont theatre. The thread of the story, such as there is, runs in the same old line but it has been brought up to date and filled with a fresh padding of fun and timely hits. The music also has been changed. The best of the old numbers are retained and there are a number of new ones that hold fully up to the time-honored standard that was set for the original score. The costumes and scenery are fresh and new. The company is exceptionally strong.
The chorus contains a lot of good looking girls, and taken as a whole Prince Pro Tem is an extremely pleasant and tuneful opera, and it will undoubtedly have a very good house.

WITH THE THEATRICAL FOLK.
Prince Pro Tem this evening.
The Gay Lord Quex scored a hit in New York. It has a record of 100 nights in London.
Thomas H. Davis, theatrical manager, is a bankrupt with liabilities of $21,500 and no assets.
Miss Nether-de received many curtain calls when she opened in Saphro in New York, Monday evening.
Clyde Fitch's new play, Captain Jack of the Horse Marines, has been received by Charles Frohman.
It seems that Judith Hathaway of the late Choir Lovers is a western actress whose name used to be Ina Hammer.
A special to the Boston Herald says that Charles Steller, who is the coach with Juffies, made a decided hit in New York with his song, "There's a Black Sheep in Every Flock." Steller has sung the same twice in this city, the first in Town Topics and the second two a few weeks ago, when Juffies was here.
There will be considerable local curiosity this week to see how Joe McAnhill, new leading man compares with our own Larry, who held the place last year. Judging from their photographs, Mr. Heath and the new leading lady, Miss Hughes, have the benefit of attractive personalities.—Concord Monitor.

SALEM TUNNEL REPAIRED.

Passengers from Boston state that the roadbed of the Salem tunnel has been repaired, a large number of men being at work several days repairing the ravages of the storms and high tides of last week. The tunnel is not far distant it is said, when the tunnel will have to be made watertight, or closed to travel. The railroad entering the city over a new trestle, through the great pastures, and across Boston street in the vicinity of "Blubber Hollow." The alternative is double tracking and making the tunnel watertight by cement wall and foundation.

MOVEMENTS OF NAVAL VESSELS.

The colliers Nero and Inquis arrived at Honolulu on Nov. 3. The Scorpion has arrived at Cape Mayten, the Monongahela at Hampton roads, the Potomac at Norfolk, the Albany at Singapore and the Atlanta at St. Thomas. The latter is on her way south to join Admiral Sibley's squadron. The Glacier has sailed from Sydney for Brisbane.

SPORTING NOTES.

The bowling season has begun in earnest.
Election is over and football is the real thing.
Yale and Princeton come together Saturday on Princeton's gridiron.
The Unity eleven and the Dover A. O. team will meet in this city Thanksgiving day.
The Maplewood football team will play the Sturtevant Guards of Rochester in this city on Saturday.

Ned Sterling, the Unity right end, is one of the best men in his position who has ever played on a Portsmouth team.
Captain Crover of the Unity club eleven, a now corner in local football circles, has shown fine race judgment in selecting and placing his men, and is besides an excellent coach.

A WORD OF WARNING.

It is very noticeable the way the men of Portsmouth, and the towns surrounding here, are coming to Eliot to go gambling on Sundays. I would like to refer them to the laws of Maine concerning this practice, and if it still continues I would advise them to beware of the consequences. A VOTER.

Eliot, Me., Nov. 13, 1906.

THE NEW APPOINTMENT.
Maine Would Lose Congressman Allen By the Change.
Director of the Census Merriam has informed the president that the figures on the population, the total of which has already been announced, will be at the disposal of congress when it meets, for any action it may desire to take in the direction of a reapportionment bill. The reapportionment following the count of the 14th census will become operative by law in 1903.
The ratio under the new census will probably reach 200,000. With an increase of 13,225,154, shown by the present census, and letting majority fractions of the apportionment count for an additional member, as has been the custom, this would make an increase of 18 members in the next house of representatives. Reapportionment on this basis would cause only four states to lose representatives—Maine, Virginia, Kansas and Nebraska. These would lose one each.
Any ratio smaller than 200,000, which would save them their full representation, would cause a considerable addition to the membership of the House.
If the basis should be adopted, it is said that it would mean the retirement of Hon. Anson M. Allen of the 1st Maine district.

LESS THAN $475 A TON.

Price Said to Have Been Agreed Upon for Amor Plate.

It was reported that the price agreed upon by Secretary Long and the armor manufacturers for armor for the vessel under construction and authorized is even less than $175 a ton, and that $115 a ton is really the figure.
"You can say positively," said a man who is cognizant with every detail of the negotiation, "that the price lies between $145 and $175 per ton."
If the price is $145 a ton Secretary Long has purchased the armor for $1,080,000 less than it was believed that he could. The armor companies first proposed $115 a ton and $15 a ton royalty.

SALEM TUNNEL REPAIRED.

Passengers from Boston state that the roadbed of the Salem tunnel has been repaired, a large number of men being at work several days repairing the ravages of the storms and high tides of last week. The tunnel is not far distant it is said, when the tunnel will have to be made watertight, or closed to travel. The railroad entering the city over a new trestle, through the great pastures, and across Boston street in the vicinity of "Blubber Hollow." The alternative is double tracking and making the tunnel watertight by cement wall and foundation.

SPORTING NOTES.

The bowling season has begun in earnest.
Election is over and football is the real thing.
Yale and Princeton come together Saturday on Princeton's gridiron.
The Unity eleven and the Dover A. O. team will meet in this city Thanksgiving day.
The Maplewood football team will play the Sturtevant Guards of Rochester in this city on Saturday.

Ned Sterling, the Unity right end, is one of the best men in his position who has ever played on a Portsmouth team.
Captain Crover of the Unity club eleven, a now corner in local football circles, has shown fine race judgment in selecting and placing his men, and is besides an excellent coach.

A WORD OF WARNING.

It is very noticeable the way the men of Portsmouth, and the towns surrounding here, are coming to Eliot to go gambling on Sundays. I would like to refer them to the laws of Maine concerning this practice, and if it still continues I would advise them to beware of the consequences. A VOTER.

Eliot, Me., Nov. 13, 1906.

Suffering Women
Here is assurance of help from one who has suffered and found relief.
"I am a firm believer in the efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, for they cured me after several doctors had told me that nothing but an operation would save my life. For nearly six years I suffered from female weakness which was aggravated by kidney trouble. I could stand but a few minutes at a time and as intervals would be followed by bed for days. For about ten years I doctored continually and employed several physicians, but I continued to grow worse, and finally the doctors told me that my only hope was in an operation. I would not submit to this. Seeing Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People advertised in the papers I decided to try them. That was four years ago. I thought they helped me and I took, in all, six boxes of the pills. They are the best medicine I ever found. No one who seems now would believe that I had suffered so much. I do not find it necessary to take the pills now, and am able to do my own housework. I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all who are afflicted with any of the ailments mentioned in the list of ailments on the wrapper. I have written and sworn to before me this statement of my recovery from the date of February 1, 1906."
(Signed) Mrs. E. Evans, 1000 Broadway, New York, N. Y.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of February, 1906.

ELIOT.

Elliot, Me., Nov. 13.
Mrs. Meribah Wentworth of Rollinsford and Mrs. Guelen of Indian Orchard, Mass., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Bartlett last week.

Rev. Mr. Ross had a stroke of paralysis last Friday, leaving his right side paralyzed.

Miss Edna Paul has gone to Portland to visit Mrs. D. Albert Jenkins.

Mrs. Stanton is in town, doing her usual rounds of dress making.

The railroad company has put in a new overhead bridge, near Elmer Jenkins'. The highway has been closed and teams have had to go through Frank Worcester's pasture.

Several people from Eliot attended "Living Whist" at South Berwick Tuesday night.

Rolla W. Bartlett was home over Sunday.

Moses E. Goodwin gave a big husking party last Friday evening. Owing to the heavy rain, only about fifty were present. There were many disappointed ones that had to stay at home.

The ladies of the Congregational society held their harvest supper last Wednesday evening. The vestries were filled with people, about 150 being present. A table filled with mystery boxes was in charge of Miss Clara Kennard, but they remained mysteries but a short time, for they were quickly sold.

Appons were for sale, and they also went quickly. The supper was the best, as it always is, and there was an abundance, the seventh table looking equally as well as the first. Thirty-five dollars was harvested and another thirty-five was pledged from willing workers.

Cardinals of apples are daily loaded at Eliot Depot. Mr. Perkins of Rye, Mr. Berry of Durham, Mr. Elinger of Indiana and Mr. Grimes of Eliot have bought nearly every salable apple in town.
